Plas Efenechtyd Cottage is 2 miles from Ruthin in North Wales. We are just off the B5105 (Ruthin - Cerrigydrudion road).

The house is on a very narrow lane which can be muddy at times.

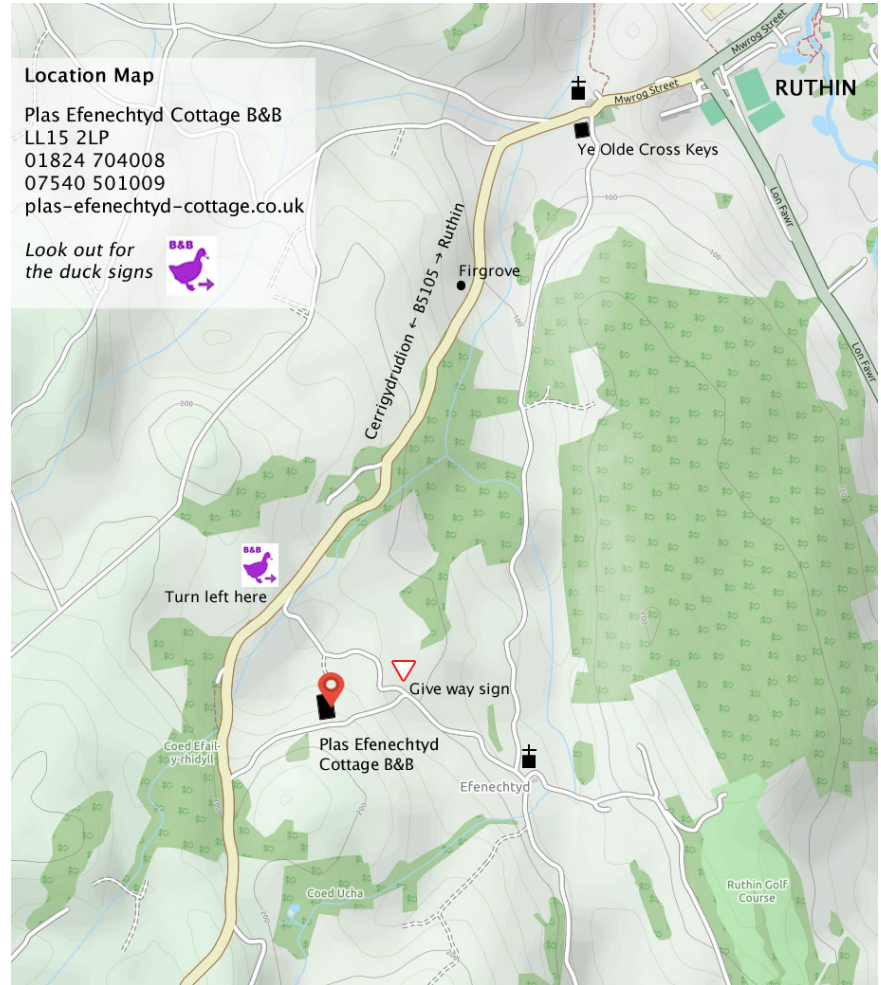

Some people have got a bit lost trying to find the house using Sat Nav so it's probably best to follow our directions and the map. We have put little duck signs along the lane to help you.

Directions

From Ruthin: take the road signed Bala. Go straight on at the mini-roundabout towards Cerrigydrudion (Bala is signposted left) through Llanfwrog past the church on the right and the Cross Keys Inn on the left. Continue up the hill, past Firgrove B&B and through a series of bends for half a mile until you reach a straight and level stretch of road. About 100 yards along this straight, take a left turn just before some railings into a single track lane. There's a large yellow sign for Tai Isa. Carry on along this lane until you reach a T junction with a Give Way sign, turn right and Plas Efenechtyd Cottage is up the hill on the right. You will see the white fence and a metal gate.

From the South: (Corwen, Llangollen, Wrexham), you may come through Efenechtyd itself. In that case, at Efenechtyd Parish Church, take the small, steep lane almost directly opposite. Continue up the hill staying on the main lane until you see us on the right.

From Cerrigydrudion: about 2 miles before Ruthin you will pass a house on the left called 'The Lodge'. Turn right immediately after this into a narrow lane. Our house is a short distance down this lane on the left hand side. You will see our pine tree next to the house and the gate is a little further.
